

Moving Beyond Survival Mode
in Distance Education and Getting Organized for Online Learning with Global-CPD**

Global-CPD 2021
Educational Leadership and Management
Webinars

Educational Leadership & Management Webinars

684 - Post-Pandemic School Leadership – How to Manage Triage, Transition and Transformation

The 3T's – Triage, Transition and Transformation – is a useful approach to reflect on during and after a crisis. This process provides a useful framework to help educational leaders and school managers. It provides a way of thinking through a crisis and provides a structure on how to respond respectively.

Educational Leadership & Management Webinars

352 - Organizational Culture - How to Lead and Manage School Culture

Culture management impacts many aspects of an educational institution. It impacts the staff, the performance of teachers, and ultimately, the students and parents. Managers and leaders need to get involved at organisational culture, be aware of barriers to change, and realise their roles as the manager and leader.

Educational Leadership & Management Webinars

845 - Assessment for Learning - How to Take Formative Action to Improve Learning

Feedback created through assessment for learning is used to improve students' performance. It is an effective way to support teaching in a formative way. It involves collaborating with peers, educators and mentors to try out activities and share thinking in order to help shift practice.

Educational Leadership & Management Webinars

685 - Leadership Standards – How to Develop Your Educational Leadership and Management Vision

Develop your leadership and management skills to establish a school vision, support your staff and make meaningful changes in your school or organisation. Principles of understanding and implementing leadership standards and best ways to build credibility by setting the right examples

Educational Leadership & Management Webinars

284 - School Development – How to Design a Professional Growth Plan

School development builds on the principles underpinning effective teacher development, a research-based framework for development, the support that can be provided for teachers and most importantly, designing a professional growth plan based on school development plan.

Educational Leadership & Management Webinars

566 - Action Planning – How to Draw a Meaningful Action Plan Based on the Professional Growth Plan

The specific actions or strategies a school will undertake to achieve its goals, action plans, are created to organize school-improvement efforts. It is crucial to review and revise them annually based on the progress made over the course of the preceding year or to reflect evolving school goals and values.

Educational Leadership & Management Webinars

827 - Effective Meetings – How to Run Effective Meetings and Improve time Management Skills

Although meetings are necessary tools for productivity, some meetings just do not work out and end up wasting everyone's time and energy. It is essential to know the methods and elements for running an efficient and effective meeting; improving effectiveness of team meetings and managing time and priorities.

A blend of online and in-person lessons was set to be the education world's "new normal" in the wake of the pandemic. However, many schools are still struggling with a transition to online learning. It has become clear that the pandemic has permanently altered the way students learn. Virtual classes are now a regular part of teachers' school experience. Correspondingly, they need fresh online teaching ideas.

The pandemic will eventually be contained, but its impact on education will remain. The days of one-size-fits-all teacher training policies must end. The trainers also have to be innovative with the curriculum, pedagogy, teaching methods, and even the way they structure trainings and activities. Ultimately, we need to provide organized and up-to-date training options for teachers and school admins.

Global-CPD is aiming to deliver high-quality teacher training webinars and courses for schools. There is already a wide range of online courses, workshops, and seminars on e-learning available for teachers. However, we aspire to provide premium, innovative and up-to-date courses that do not repeat whatever is said until now but put forward something new and practical that will make things easier for teachers and students.

